This warranty gives you specific legal rights. So far as permitted by law, it represents the only warranty provided by Bristol, and where permitted by law, supercedes and replaces any warranties under applicable legislation, including any statutory warranties of merchantable quality or fitness for a particular purpose.

Bristol Sinks and Faucets hereby warrant to the original consumer that this product shall be free from defects in materials and workmanship throughout its lifetime provided that the following conditions have been met:

- The product has been installed by professional installers who are sufficiently trained to competently complete such installations;
- Installation has been in accordance with Bristol's Installation Guide within a home or other residential setting and damage has not been incurred through misinstallation or modification of the product , or through the negligence or willful actions of the installer;
- Failure of, or damage to the product is not occasioned or contributed to by misuse, abuse, modification, failure to maintain or clean the product, (or the use of corrosive or other cleaning agents or chemicals which mar the finish) or by denting of the product through impact while in service;
- Damage to the product is not caused by improper shipping, packaging, or handling, use of replacement parts not provided or approved by Bristol, or arising from environmental causes beyond the control of Bristol.

If, when presented with proof satisfactory to Bristol that both the product is defective, and that the claimant is the original consumer, Bristol will provide new product of the same, or of equivalent design and value, as determined by Bristol. Bristol Sinks and Faucets reserve the right to inspect all products for defects prior to meeting its warranty commitment herein.

This lifetime limited warranty shall not extend to commercial installations, or uses, or to residential installations where the product has been subjected to uses beyond those normally undertaken within a home environment. Normal wear and tear, (including scuffs and scratches while in service) shall not be included within this warranty.

This is a product warranty only. Bristol Sinks and Faucets shall not be responsible for consequential or incidental damage occasioned to counters, tile, marble or other contiguous surfaces through removal of defective product or during reinstallation of replacement product, or for labor or other incidental costs and outlays associated with any of the removal, or reinstallation of product, or its return to Bristol. Further, Bristol shall not in any manner be liable, or responsible for postage or shipping costs associated with product returns.

Bristol Sinks and Faucets assumes no liability what-so-ever with respect to compliance with Building Code or Plumbing Code requirements in any jurisdiction where product is, or is intended to be installed and all such compliance matters shall be the responsibility of the consumer, or consumer's installer.

This warranty represents the complete liability of Bristol Sinks and Faucets to the original consumer and shall not extend to protect the interests of any party in addition to, or subsequent to the original consumer herein. Further, it shall apply only with respect to the original installation immediately after purchase from Bristol, and not to any subsequent installation.
